Report of the Mayor

Dec. 31, 1920.

To the Citizens of the City of Rutland:

I hereby submit, for your consideration, my second annual report as Mayor of the City of Rutland for the year ending Dec. 31, 1920.

It has been my endeavor, working with the members of the City Council, to conduct the affairs of our City for the best interests of the people and I have given a lot of time to this office.

Through the efforts of our City Treasurer in placing the new Armory and Street bonds at par, we saved the city some $5,700.00. Our bonded indebtedness, as you will see by our Treasurer's report, was increased $164,000.00, this being brought about by the Armory Bonds of $114,000.00 and the Street improvement bonds of $50,000.00, both of which were voted by the people and approved by the City Council. At the same time, we have reduced the bonded indebtedness as follows:

General appropriation to sinking fund	$8,000 00
School Bonds paid from general fund	2,000 00
Sinking fund earnings	15,784 11
	$25,784 11

This amount deducted from the $164,000.00 new bonds would leave the net new bonded indebtedness as $138,215.89. We were also able to close the year's business with a cash balance of $48,722.42 from our Armory and Street improvement bonds and a cash balance from the general accounts of $14,025.49.

I will not go into any detail of the receipts or expenditures of the different departments, as this is shown in the report of your Treasurer. You will notice in this report, that we are one of the cities, if not the only one, that has lived within our appropriation and has not overdrawn the amount we receive from our taxes. Our tax rate of $2.50 is the lowest of any city in Vermont, some places running as high as $5.40, the average tax rate of the cities and towns of Vermont being about $3.17.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT

The past year has been one of the hardest years for any Mayor to accomplish anywhere near what he started out to do, with the shortage of labor and the high prices of material. I realize we haven't done a whole lot of what we had planned to do, but have tried to do all we could with the money we had to do with. The work on Wales and West Streets did not go along as fast as we would like to have seen it, but the contractors were not all to blame, as the labor trouble and material held them back. If they had been able to have gotten the material they expected to use on the West Street sewer, the work would have gone much faster and West Street would have been completed by Nov. 1st. The West Street sewer was an expensive piece of work, but, in the long run, it will be a great benefit to this section of our city as the old sewers were in worse condition than we expected to find them, besides being about one-half the size of the new sewers. We have tried to see that all the underground work was taken care of before laying the new pavement. I think the public will be well pleased with this pavement when the work is completed and cleaned up. This department, under the supervision of Mr. Snyder, has been well handled and a close account has been kept by him of all expenditures in this department.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY

The men in charge of the Police and Fire Departments under this head have carried out the duties of their offices to the best of their ability. We had a little trouble in the Fire Department this last year, which inconvenienced us for a few days, but at this time, we are proud of this department and the men in charge.

DEPARTMENT OF CHARITIES AND CORRECTIONS

This department has been well looked after under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Hickey and the money well spent. There should be some needed repairs made on the buildings and heating system this coming year.

MEMORIAL HALL

As suggested last year, there should be some much needed repairs made on the inside and the steps outside this building. Doors and window frames need painting and varnishing and electric lights should be installed on the second floor. The City Council voted an appropriation to the Library of $4,000.00, an increase of $500.00.

CONCLUSION

In conclusion, I desire to express my appreciation to the Honorable City Council for their co-operation in conducting the affairs of our city and the friendly relations that have existed during the year. To the heads of the different departments as well as the men connected with them, I extend my thanks for their assistance in conducting the affairs of our city.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES C. DUNN,
Mayor.

Report of the Commissioner of Public Works

To The Honorable City Council:

Gentlemen:—In accordance with the provisions of the City Charter, I submit herewith the 12th annual report of the Commissioner of Public Works; for the year ending December 31, 1920:

The most important work undertaken during the past year was the paving of, and the reconstruction of sewers in West street, from Pine street to Wales street, and Wales street from West street to Strongs avenue. Bids were received March 22, 1920, from the Portland Construction Co., Inc., of Portland, Maine, and from Linberg and Street, of Boston, Mass. Prices were asked on vitrified brick on a concrete foundation, sheet asphalt on a concrete foundation, and reinforced concrete pavements. The prices for brick and asphalt were such that after careful consideration it was felt that the reinforced concrete was the most economical. Prices were also asked for monolithic concrete, reinforced concrete pipe, and segment block sewers. Segment block was chosen, not only because it was the cheapest but also on account of the rapidity with which it could be constructed.

On April 7, 1920, the contract was therefore awarded to Linberg and Street, whose bid was the lower, the gross amount of the contract based on the approximate quantities being $77,544.35, of which about $27,000 was for sewers.

The Contractors immediately ordered the sewer pipe and received assurances that it would be shipped at once. Hopes of receiving the pipe were entertained until the latter part of June, when we were advised by the manufacturers that they saw no prospects of obtaining cars. It was then decided to construct monolithic concrete sewers, which, although much slower, would allow the work to proceed.

Space does not permit of telling in detail of the obstacles encountered during the progress of the work. Labor conditions, together with unforeseen difficulties in the sewer, combined to prevent the completion of the pavement until the coming spring. Practically all the underground work has been completed and there remains only the pavement on West street from Merchants Row to Wales street and seventy feet of pavement on Wales street near Strongs avenue yet to be constructed, which will take about three weeks to do.

The routine work of the street department was of course affected by general conditions. As the funds have increased but very little, the work accomplished has decreased materially due to the mounting cost of everything. Last winter the cost of snow removal also ate into our appropriation to quite an extent.

In the sewer department, with the exception of the reconstruction of the Howe street sewer, the work was confined wholly to repairs to sewers and building and rebuilding catch basins. The old eight inch pipe in Howe street was replaced with 15 inch vitrified and 21 inch concrete pipe. One new man-hole was built on this line. The pipe for this sewer arrived just about three months after it had been ordered.

The water department was handicapped to no small extent by the labor shortage. The lowering of the main in Wales street together with the renewing of services in West and Wales streets and the routine work of repairing leaks, etc., taxed the capacity of the department many times to keep from delaying the work of paving. The work of lowering the main in Wales street was particularly slow and tedious, being in ledge rock practically the whole distance.

Besides the work above mentioned, a six inch main was laid in Bellevue avenue, north of North street for a distance of about 572 feet.

The department had hoped to improve the fire protection in Baxter and State streets and Cleveland avenue by enlarging the mains, but had to let it go over until next spring.

The engineering department has been kept busy giving lines and grades for sewers, curbing and pavement, measuring completed work and preparing monthly estimates for the work on West and Wales streets in addition to the regular work of this department.

The tables given below show in further detail the work accomplished by the various departments, together with the cost.

In concluding this report, it may not be out of place to say a few words relative to the program for the coming year.

In order to complete the improvement of West and Wales streets, new walks should be constructed. Cement concrete would probably cost about 35 cents per sq. ft., or $3.50 per foot frontage for a walk ten feet wide. If the abutting property owners would pay one-half the cost, I believe the City could pay the other half.

As to the paving, so far as the condition of the road itself is concerned, any one of several might well be chosen. In order to decide we must consider, then, other factors, such as connection with existing pavements, amount of underground work, length of pavement and amount of traffic benefitted.

Comparing the different streets and highways on the basis of the above factors, it is my opinion that the appropriation for 1921 will go further and be of greater benefit to the whole city if expended on Strongs avenue and South Main street to the City line, than on any other highway. It will be possible to build a 20 foot roadway from Madison street to the south city line, which will give us one main artery, well paved, from the city limits, to the heart of the business section.

Merchants Row, between the two stretches of brick pavement, should be completed with brick, but I believe a substantial saving in the cost can be effected by waiting until 1922, when, in all probability, Evelyn street and Grove street as far as State street can be done too.

Respectfully submitted,

DONALD D. SNYDER,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Report of the Commissioner of Public Safety

To the Honorable City Council:

Gentlemen:—I herewith submit the annual report of the Police and Fire Departments for the year 1920.

POLICE DEPARTMENT

The Police Department consists of the Chief of Police, seven regular patrolmen, one special doing regular duty and a number of special officers. The addition of one regular man has aided this department in caring for the ever increasing automobile traffic which was more congested this year, owing to the road construction on two of our busiest streets.

The Police Signal system which was installed a number of years ago will have to be replaced by a modern system in the near future as it is inadequate and is a growing source of expense owing to the frequent repairs needed.

During the year there have been 129 arrests, 55 for intoxication and 74 for all other offenses. Sixty-one people have been given lodgings.

The expense for the year is as follows:

Pay Roll	$10,340 72
Telephone and Signal Service	517 96
Repairs and Supplies	387 48
	$11,246 16

An inventory of the property and supplies on hand shows a total value of $973.25.

FIRE DEPARTMENT

The Fire Department is made up of the Chief Engineer, the first assistant engineer, the second assistant engineer, seven regular firemen and fifteen call men.

The chief engineer, first assistant and four firemen at Station No. 1. The second assistant engineer and three firemen at Station No. 2.

The Department was called out 72 times during the year, 45 telephone alarms, 23 bell alarms and 4 thermostat alarms.

The fire loss for the year was $48,050, $29,150 of which was caused by one fire, the Grimm Evaporator plant.

In May owing to a strike of the firemen of Station No. 1 the department was reorganized, seven new men being engaged, and our small fire loss reflects credit on the efficiency of the present department.

I would recommend the addition to the permanent force of one man for duty at Station No. 1, and would suggest that if this is done the number of call men be reduced.

At least two additional alarm boxes should be installed, one near the Dana School on East street and one near St. Peters on Meadow street.

The expense for maintaining the department for 1920 is as follows:

Pay Roll	$13,817 33
Fuel	650 14
Repairs	102 02
Supplies	197 42
Laundry	62 55
Telephone	18 10
Light and Power	148 11
Auto Supplies and Repairs	571 27
Insurance	100 00
Ground rent Station No. 2	18 00

New Equipment	863 97
Sundries	91 38
	$16,640 29

An inventory of the property and supplies on hand shows a total value of $39,026.80.

Respectfully submitted,
 FRED C. ROBERTS,
 Commissioner of Public Safety.

Report of City Attorney

To the Honorable City Council:

Gentlemen:

I beg leave to submit herewith my report as City Attorney for the year ending December 31st, 1920. During the year it has been my pleasure and privilege to advise and assist various committees appointed by your Board and to give legal advice to the various Officials of the City.

I have also, in behalf of the City, instituted several suits for collection of taxes at the request of the City Constable.

During the past year, two suits in which the City of Rutland was the defendant, namely, Turner vs. City of Rutland and B. S. Hyland and Turner vs. Whittier, have been discontinued without cost or damage to the City. The City Attorney was also called upon to defend one other suit, Nichols & Barney vs. City of Rutland, which was returnable before the Rutland County Court and settled without trial.

The condemnation proceedings brought against the Vermont Hydro-Electric Corporation and H. E. Dyer for the purposes of acquiring certain water rights and privileges on the north branch of Cold River resulted in the acquiring by the City of the desired rights for a reasonable price.

The City Attorney has at various times appeared before the Public Service Commission of Vermont in matters in which the City was interested.

During the month of December of this year the City Council, feeling that the rates charged and service rendered by the Rutland Railway, Light & Power Company to the City of Rutland and its inhabitants were unfair and unjust, authorized the City Attorney, together with the Board of Finance, to take steps to investigate the electric and gas situation. This Committee has engaged competent technical assistance and is now in the course of an investigation.

Your Honorable Board authorized the City Attorney a few months past to compile and revise the City Ordinances, some of which were obsolete and non-operative. I have spent a great deal of time in conferences with City Officials and your Board and in considering the law in this work, which will be completed in the very near future.

Through the efforts of the Overseer of the Poor and the City Attorney, several insane paupers have been removed to the Brattleboro Retreat for treatment.

Respectfully submitted,

LEONARD F. WING,
City Attorney.

Report of Overseer of Poor

To the Honorable City Council:

I respectfully submit my report as Overseer of Poor for the year ending December 31st, 1920.

The cost of maintaining this department shows an increase over the preceding year, due chiefly to contagious diseases, the influx of indigent people, and the high cost of living.

While the cost of contagious diseases is, by law, chargeable to the general fund and is paid from said fund by other cities and towns in this state, this item alone has cost this department $936.83.

With every available tenement in the city occupied during the year, it is but natural to expect some indigent people, and from my observations based upon the conditions existing in this department, we have more of this element than ever before in the history of this city.

The same care has been exercised by me as in previous years. Every case brought to my attention has been properly cared for.

Report of the President of the Board of School Commissioners

To His Honor, the Mayor, and the Citizens of the City of Rutland:

As President of the School Board I respectfully submit for your consideration the customary annual report of the schools of this city. The supervision and management of our schools are to a large extent under the immediate charge and direction of the Superintendent of Schools, who has made a somewhat detailed account of the work during the past year, and of his report I ask your careful consideration.

FINANCES FOR 1920

The financial statement for the year ending December 31, 1920, made by the Finance Committee of the School Board, is attached to this report.

You will note that the gross receipts for the support of the public schools in this city during the past year have been $103,211.62. Of this amount $91,079.95 was realized from city taxes; $4,207.82 from the State; $4,433.50 from tuition; $1,686.40 unexpended balance of the previous year, and the remainder, $1,803.95, from other sources. The total expenditures were $103,168.31. Of this amount $82,437.55 was paid for salaries; $2,532.21 for text books; $4,197.46 for supplies; $2,836.20 for repairs; $9,020.35 for fuel and light, and $2,144.54 for sundries. The unexpended balance to the credit of the School Board December 31, 1920, was $43.31.

An itemized statement of the assets and liabilities of the School Board on December 31, 1920, as filed with the City Treasurer, shows that the cash balance in the treasury, fuel, text books and supplies on hand, and State rebates, accrued but not due, amounted to $5,886.36, and that the indebtedness on the same date amounted to $650.76, leaving an excess of assets over liabilities of $5,235.60. The increased receipts were derived almost wholly from the increase in the city appropriation authorized by the voters at their last annual meeting. This increase, as was indicated in the warning at the annual meeting, was designed chiefly to increase salaries, to meet the high cost of living and the higher cost of supplies and repairs. In accordance with the expressed wish of the voters, the School Board increased the salary of each member of the teaching force practically $300.00, and voted a corresponding increase to the janitors. The total paid for salaries during the past year was $24,646.70 in excess of the salaries paid the preceding year, which explains largely the excess of expenditures in 1920 over those of 1919.

FINANCES FOR 1921

The salaries paid by the School Board prior to increases granted last year were exceptionally low and out of proportion to the salaries paid in other lines of service, and to the high cost of living. The salaries at present are not in excess of those paid for similar service in Vermont and are decidedly lower than those paid in our adjoining states. To meet the increased expenditures last year the Board reduced its unexpended balance in the treasury some $1,600.00 and its other net assets $2,000.00. In other words, the current school expenditures for 1920 exceeded its current receipts by more than $3,600.00. On account of this deficit and the additional cost when the increases in salaries already granted are fully effective, together with other added expenses already authorized, the Board will not be able to conduct the schools during the present fiscal year without a still further advance in the school receipts. In addition to the above, the cost of fuel has greatly advanced since purchases were made early last spring, and the probable cost of fuel and light for 1921 will be considerably in excess of the amount paid last year. Again, the repairs on school buildings for several years have been much below normal although the amount so expended, due to the high cost of such repairs, would not indicate this. The school plant has been allowed for several years to deteriorate, and this deterioration should be checked and remedied at once—and this correction will involve a much larger expenditure on repairs for the present fiscal year than for several years past. The tax rate for schools in Rutland for several years has been considerably lower than that in the larger towns of Vermont, as the following table will indicate, and it is very evident to the School Board that if the schools in this city are to be kept to a high standard of efficiency and the school plant be not allowed to deteriorate further, the tax rate for schools in this city for the present year must be further increased.

CITY CHARTER

Section 200 of the City Charter limits the power of the Board of Aldermen to appropriate for the support of schools in excess of fifty cents on the dollar of the Grand List of the city unless authorized by the voters of the city to appropriate a larger amount. This provision of the Charter has not been changed since Rutland became a city. For the past four years the School Board has been obliged to ask the voters to authorize a higher tax rate for the schools, which has been granted. The School Board is now convinced that it will be impossible to properly conduct the schools in this city on the school tax rate established in the City Charter nearly thirty years ago, and has asked, with the unanimous approval of the Board of Aldermen, that this Section of the Charter be amended by raising the maximum tax rate for schools from fifty cents to eighty-five cents. This change would not mean that the school tax rate must be raised to eighty-five cents, but authorizes the Board of Aldermen to appropriate for the schools up to that limit without asking the voters annually to authorize such increase.

ENLARGEMENT OF SCHOOL PLANT

Some three years ago the school Board closed two of its smaller school buildings and assigned the scholars to other schools. These buildings were greatly out of repair and on account of the small enrollment, the per capita cost per pupil was excessive. This consolidation, effected more easily by the fact that the school enrollment during the war period decreased, resulted in temporarily keeping down school expenses. With the approach of normal economic conditions the school enrollment has steadily increased, and the schools in certain sections of the city are becoming congested. This congestion, without doubt, will become more marked during the present year and will demand the early consideration of the patrons of the schools and the taxpayers of the city.

Again, the trend of public education is changing. Scholars remain in school longer and a larger number enter high school and prepare for higher institutions of learning. The attendance in our High School has more than doubled during the last one and one-half decades. Junior High Schools have been instituted in forty-six cities and towns in Vermont and the matter of establishing a Junior High in Rutland has been discussed by various Rutland School Boards without any satisfactory conclusion being reached as to the advisability of adopting this system in Rutland. In any event, the school plant is not adequate to properly meet our present needs and the new conditions that confront us. The satisfactory solution will require the expenditure of a considerable sum of money and must have the support of patrons and citizens alike. I, therefore, recommend that a joint committee be appointed in the near future, representing the interests of the School Board and the Board of Aldermen, to investigate the whole subject of enlarging and improving the school plant, and to make its recommendations to the voters of the City.

MANUAL TRAINING

From the many requests I have received from parents, pupils and teachers, I strongly recommend the re-establishing of the teaching of manual training for boys in the grades. Equipment already on hand, with some outlay of money, could easily be put in condition so that this popular course could be properly conducted.

THE TEACHING FORCE

I wish to take this opportunity to express my own appreciation, and that of the Board of School Commissioners, of the faithful and efficient services of the entire teaching force. I have always found our teachers receptive to suggestions and advice as to anything conducive to the betterment of their profession. An innovation this year in the establishment of departmental work in three of the principal buildings proved that the teachers were ready and competent to make an educational success of this experiment.

I believe it has been noticeably evident this year that the teachers throughout the city have been zealous in their efforts toward the moral, as well as the educational uplift of their individual classes.

PHYSICAL WELFARE

The physical welfare of the pupils has been splendidly looked after by the school physician, Dr. Ray E. Smith, and by the Rutland Red Cross, through its representative, Miss Mary A. Devlin, whose untiring efforts in co-operation with the teachers have made her an indispensable adjunct of the school personnel. The value of her service and its results cannot be too highly commended.

CONCLUSION

I wish at this time to express to the members of the School Board my appreciation of the courtesy and assistance accorded me while presiding over their deliberations, and to the citizens generally for their liberal support of the public schools during the past year.

Respectfully submitted,

BARTLEY J. COSTELLO,
President of the Board of School Commissioners.

Report of the Superintendent of Schools

To the Board of School Commissioners and City Council of the City of Rutland:

In accordance with the regulations of your honorable board, and the requirements of the city charter, I herewith present my fifteenth annual report of the schools of this city.

The statistical tables and other data formerly published as a basis of comparison, also the reports of the Principal of the High School and of the heads of the special departments, have been prepared as usual but by special direction of the Board will not be published in the city reports. These reports will be printed in full as usual in the local dailies, the careful reading of which we commend to the patrons of the schools and the voters of the city.

The school enrollment, membership and attendance for the natural school year ending June 30, 1920, varied but little from similar data covering a period of several years, and would indicate that the school population of the city had remained nearly stationary for a considerable period of time. It is evident that during the past year there has been a steady growth in the school population of the city but this increase has to a large extent been absorbed by private schools and by a larger number of children who on account of the high cost of living and the large wages paid have withdrawn from the schools to enter other lines of work. The percentage of attendance to membership since the opening of the present school year has been exceptionally high, being excelled in few, if any, important towns in the state. This high percent has been effected by the absence of serious epidemics, by the watchful attention of the school health officials and by the services of a very efficient Truant Officer.

FINANCES

The President of the Board of School Commissioners has covered very fully the finances of the schools for the past fiscal year. The school receipts and expenditures were in excess of those of any previous year due almost wholly to the increase in salaries and the higher cost of fuel and supplies. From his report you will see that the current school receipts were not equal to the current expenditures last year, since the unexpended cash balance and other net assets to the credit of the school department were decreased nearly $4,000. The full effect of increases in salaries and additional expenses authorized by the Board were not fully effective in 1920, which together with increased cost of fuel and the necessary repairs on school buildings must necessarily call for a considerably larger expenditure for the schools in 1921 than during the past year. The school board has no means of meeting these increased expenses without a larger city appropriation for the schools. The school tax in Rutland for several years has been lower than in any other important town or city in the state and if the increase in the school appropriation asked for by the board is granted the school tax will still be low as compared with that in similar towns and cities of Vermont and of New England.

ENLARGEMENT OF THE SCHOOL PLANT

In my report of last year I called attention to the advisability of establishing a Junior High School and eliminating from our system the ninth grade. I also called attention to the fact that our High School building was taxed to its capacity. While these matters have been considered to some extent by the School Board no definite action has been taken and the conditions that existed one year ago have not materially changed. In giving up the Gilrain Avenue and the School Street schools and assigning the pupils in those buildings to other schools every class room in the city with one exception was occupied practically to its capacity. The policy of discontinuing schools in those two buildings temporarily kept down expenditures, thus saving the city several thousand dollars each year. Another important reason for closing those two buildings was the fact that both were greatly out of repair and the State Board of Health was urging the school officials to make repairs or discontinue those schools. The repairs called for would aggregate several thousand dollars and the fact that the city realized only $625 from the sale of the School Street building including its heating plant clearly showed the unwisdom of attempting to spend a large amount of money for repairs on such a structure.

Pressure was brought upon the board by local and state health officials to vacate the school room on the third floor of the Kingsley Building on the ground that this room was not properly ventilated and lighted and that the fire risk was great. The school board has yielded to this pressure and has recently vacated that room and assigned the pupils to other schools. An ungraded school was opened in the one remaining unoccupied school room in the city so that at present every regular school room is occupied and most of these rooms to capacity.

The problem of establishing a Junior High School and relieving the crowded condition in the High School remains unsolved. It appears very evident that with the return of normal economic conditions Rutland will materially increase in population, which will demand additional school accommodations. I, therefore, most heartily commend the suggestion of the President of the School Board that a joint committee be appointed in the near future to consider this whole matter of enlarging and improving the school plant. In my opinion a committee representing the interests of the School Board, the Board of Aldermen and other important organizations of the city interested in civic improvement, could study this whole matter of school accommodations from an unbiased standpoint and make a report to the voters of this city that would have weight and carry conviction and result in securing the relief needed. This problem ought not to be delayed longer as it is evident that additional schools in this city must be opened soon and such accommodations cannot be furnished in our present buildings.

DEPARTMENTAL WORK

The ninth grade was incorporated into the elementary school system some forty years ago for the purpose of better preparing children in the grades for the high school and at the same time to enable the high school pupil to do work equal to that done in the old-style academy and private school. The necessity for the ninth grade passed years ago and we now find that grade entirely absent in the best school systems west of the Hudson River and with very few exceptions in New England. It has been found that the work in this grade is so largely a review that the child loses interest and in a measure is marking time to complete the grammar course. At the same time the work has so greatly improved by the lengthening of the school year and by a more efficient teaching force that the high school graduates are now able to do work that corresponds to that done in the best private schools and academies; in fact the scholarship of the high school graduate now receives a higher rating in some colleges than that of scholars prepared in private schools. The School Board has indicated its purpose of eliminating the ninth grade in our system after the present school year. To aid in carrying out this purpose the course of study has been somewhat modified in all of the grammar grades and in three of the larger school buildings departmental work has been established. This has enabled the teachers in these schools to concentrate their time and energy upon the particular subject that they are best adapted to teach and at the same time to give that intensive instruction which makes the work of the school much more efficient. This plan appears to be working satisfactorily and is securing most favorable results in our system.

TEACHING FORCE

Thirteen vacancies in the teaching force, seven in the High School and six in the grades, have occurred during the past fiscal year. Two teachers resigned to be married, seven to accept teaching positions elsewhere, three to take up other lines of work and one on account of illness. Several other vacancies would have occurred had not salary adjustments been made. The number of changes, unusually large, involved much attention and considerable expense and tends to show that teachers are not desirous of retaining their positions unless salaries are commensurate with those paid elsewhere and in other lines of work. The state conducted a Summer School for teachers in this city during the summer vacation. Nearly all the grade teachers of the city attended. Teachers unable to secure instruction in courses which they most desired were allowed, with the approval of the Board, to receive the cost of tuition and traveling expenses in attending summer schools outside of the city.

One teacher seriously ill was granted a pension of $25 per month in accordance with vote of the citizens at their last annual meeting. This is the first instance of a public school teacher receiving a pension granted by the voters of a town or city in this state. We are glad to note that this teacher has recovered her health and no longer needs a pension. Forty-four of our teachers are now members of the Vermont Teachers' Retirement Association.

HEALTH INSPECTION

For several years the citizens have given their approval, by increased majorities, to Medical Inspection in the schools. A law recently passed continues Medical Inspection in towns which have so voted until the town votes otherwise. Health inspection of the children was never so effective as at present and this inspection extends to private as well as public schools. A school nurse is now employed for the full calendar year to assist the Medical Inspector and to follow up cases needing medical attention. The local branch of the Red Cross is endeavoring to supply milk to all school children wishing it, making special provision that children unable to pay shall receive the milk without charge. More than 1700 quarts of milk were distributed in the schools last month. A marked improvement in the health of many undernourished children is apparent. I wish to commend in highest terms the work that our Medical Inspector, School Nurse and the local branch of the Red Cross are doing in our schools.

HIGH SCHOOL

The High School has had a prosperous year under an exceptionally strong principal and teaching force. The enrollment, as well as the number of tuition pupils, the amount of tuition collected and the number of different towns patronizing the school are all the largest in its history. The Principal has made to me an able report of the work done, which as far as space will allow I incorporate into this report, as follows:

"After nearly five years of service in the school it is perhaps not out of place for me to bring to your attention some of the things that have been done during that period:

1. The most important development in the school has been in the line of democracy. Five years ago the lines of social cleavage appeared very closely drawn, and the line between classical and commercial departments much more so. After a good deal of struggle, more difficult because it could not be brought to public attention, we have practically eliminated this condition. I do not believe any student in school at the present time can truthfully say that he is discriminated against or made to feel inferiority.

2. The Commercial Department has been entirely overhauled. We are now doing in the last two years of the course all of the commercial work that formerly took the most of the time of four years. The course is not cluttered with those students who are hopelessly incompetent, and students who really have ability and interest are not held back in their work by a large number of such students. * * *

3. We have made considerable progress in Music. We now have a rather large number of students taking Music under approved teachers, following in general the suggestions of the course we have adopted, and taking examinations each Spring. These students are receiving credit for this work as for their work done in school. It is now possible for a student to receive about one-fourth of the total credits required for graduation in the subject of Music. Our orchestra has been well sustained and creditable to the school. * * *

4. Our College Preparatory work has been on the whole well done. We now have our graduates in twenty different colleges. I have yet to hear of any student who has entered college on our certificate and been unable to do college work. Several of the colleges are now requiring the entrance examinations of the College Entrance Examination Board. Our students, in common with those of most other schools, are finding it very difficult to meet the requirements of these institutions. Our very best students can do it. The colleges now on this basis say they wish only the very best students, so the arrangement is evidently working as they desire. A student who can maintain a straight grade of A in this school can usually meet the requirements of these colleges.

5. We have been experimenting now for three years with the Industrial Course under the Smith-Hughes Act. In many ways this has been satisfactory and in some ways unsatisfactory. The class-room instruction has been of a very high type; so much so that several boys who have wished to change back to the regular course have been able to carry the advanced work in Mathematics, English and Science without loss of time. * * * Because of the money earned by the boys in these courses some have been able to stay in school who would otherwise have been obliged to leave. The course has helped to improve the general attitude of the school toward work that is at least in part manual, and has given many students a more dignified estimate of the man who works with his hands.

The employers of these boys have done their best to give them opportunities to learn a trade. But business conditions have been such that in many cases it has not been possible to give the boys the various types of work that are necessary to make a master workman. * * * In this type of work just as soon as compensation while learning becomes more important to the boy than learning the trade, he may well be dropped from the course. * * *

6. The work in teacher training has developed steadily, and the increase in salaries has had a tendency recently to attract more girls into this line of work. We have at present twenty-two girls in training for rural school teaching.

7. The work in Domestic Science has been expanded until a girl can now get three full years of it five periods a week. In this department we are seriously handicapped by a lack of room and the work is limited. This work cannot be much further developed without more ample accommodations for it.

8. We have introduced in a small way physical training for all the students. This is proving of considerable value. Our athletics offer development for a few students, but at least eighty per cent of the students do not engage in athletics. In common with most other schools we need to introduce a type of mass athletics, to include all the students in school, and to supplement this with physical examinations. We are failing more seriously in health education and the physical development of our pupils than in any other way. We need a gymnasium, a playground, and a full-time physical instructor, entirely apart from our interscholastic athletics.

9. The work in Elocution, Reading and Dramatics has been well sustained and has invariably reflected credit on the school.

10. For the past two years we have been securing closer co-operation with the homes, largely through the use of a part of one teacher's time in visiting the homes, getting acquainted with the parents, attempting to learn the abilities and ambitions of the students, and trying to secure more home study on the part of the students who are not doing their best. * * *

11. The percentage of failures in school has been materially reduced. In 1917 at the mid-year markings this percentage was 19.8. This year it was approximately 12.2. The number of failures is still too large and seems to be growing at present. There are several reasons for this:

(a) Since the discontinuance of the free tuition examinations by the state, some schools have not been careful in their promotion into high school.

(b) War wages and the employment of students of high school age have given so much money for pleasure that much time which should be put into school work is required to spend this money.

(c) It has not been the policy of the school to drop students who have not sufficient ability to do work of secondary grade. We now have students who have been in school three or four years and rate in the standard mental tests with the average of students in the sixth grade. * * *

(d) Our salary schedule has led to frequent changes of teachers, and new teachers always mean an increased failure list.

(e) Under the present organization of the grammar grades it is pretty difficult to learn the general trend of a child's abilities. Hence the first year sees many misfits in studies and too much failure and discouragement. * * *

RECOMMENDATIONS

From the foregoing statements of progress and conditions, it is possible to infer what is necessary to make a better high school. I will enlarge upon only two.

1. Need for more manual work in the lower classes.

We have many students in the lower classes who are totally unable to devote themselves for a whole day to intellectual work. Some of these would profit through the training of the muscles and through the learning of such things as may be taught in a high-grade course in Manual Training. Nearly all of them would do better work in the academic subjects if a part of their day could be devoted to physical work. There would also be a certain pre-vocational value to the work, for this type of student needs to try various things before finding the thing he can do best.

2. I can see no prospect of any great advancement in the high school work in Rutland without additional facilities. * * * The high school is growing slowly all the time, and the elimination of the ninth grade will have a tendency to bring into high school many students who now do not enter because they are in grammar school one year longer than they should be, and arrive at the age when they feel they cannot afford the time for a high school course. Thirty-four graduates of last year's grammar school graduating class did not enter this school. * * *

The only reasonable solution I can see for our building problem is to be found in the erection of a junior high school building near enough to the present high school so that the schools could use in common the Domestic Science rooms, Manual Training equipment, Printing equipment and Gymnasium which the new building should contain, and the junior high school could perhaps use our assembly hall and laboratories. Such a school, properly erected and organized, should do at least the following things:

(a) Make it possible to maintain only three years of work in the present building, giving more ample room for class work and study.

(b) Relieve the congestion in the grades by removing the grammar school pupils to the junior high school, making unnecessary the construction of more ward buildings.

(c) Make uniform the work of all pupils above the sixth or seventh grade, and give all those students an equal opportunity.

(d) Make possible the introduction of Domestic Science and Manual Training as full-time subjects in those grades where they are most needed. * * *

(e) Ascertain and test the abilities and aptitudes of students before they reach the high school proper, and place them in the kinds of courses they can do best. * * *

(f) Allow us to develop and improve our work in health education, home making, manual arts, English and Science.

(g) Provide opportunity for the evening school work which many states are already making compulsory for students who leave the regular schools before the age of eighteen.

All of the above things are nearly at a standstill and must have more room and equipment before the youth of the city can get what they are entitled to receive."

EDUCATION FOR CITIZENSHIP

The National Education Association of the United States at its last annual convention adopted the following resolution:

"We maintain that education for the responsibilities of citizenship is an increasingly pressing obligation on the schools at this critical period of national and world affairs and to that end education for citizenship must fill a large space in school programs from the kindergarten to the graduate courses of the universities, and this education must provide for practice along with instruction, so that there may be training in habits, ideals, and attitude of service for the common weal of community and nation."

Public education is one of the vital forces in our national life; it is a function of the state, and public school funds should be expended for the greatest good of all the children of the state without regard to age, race or creed. We are coming rapidly to the recognition of our obligation of developing to the utmost and along the most beneficial lines this tremendous power. The time has passed when the obligations of a city or state can be considered fully discharged if its school funds are expended simply in teaching the subjects required by law and only the children within the compulsory school age. If this conception of Education is right, we may ask what is Rutland doing with its annual school fund of $100,000 to educate and train for citizenship those among us unfamiliar with our language and ideals; what is she doing to assist those who on account of adverse circumstances, were forced to leave school at the close of the compulsory school age; what is she doing to help those men and women among us who now see and feel the need of further study and training to more fully meet the demand of citizenship and society? The time has come in my opinion when this city through its schools should offer greater encouragement and assistance to all these classes of people. I shall welcome the time when our state by law will make it not only possible, but mandatory, for every school department to provide for the further education of such persons.

RECOMMENDATIONS

I recommend the following:

1. That the Mayor appoint at an early date a joint committee, representing the interests of the School Board, the Board of Aldermen and of other local organizations interested in civic improvement to make a survey of the school buildings of Rutland and to make its report to the citizens of the city.

2. That immediate steps be taken to relieve the congested condition in the High School and to make possible the establishment of a Junior High School.

3. That at the close of the present school year the ninth grade be eliminated from our system and that a Junior High School be established; if that be not possible, that all the grammar grades of the city be consolidated in the Longfellow Building and departmental instruction be continued.

4. That the ungraded school for backward pupils be continued and that Domestic Science, including cookery, be taught in that class and in the grammar grades.

5. That Manual Training be reestablished in the grammar grades and that the Industrial Course in the High school be continued provided the manufacturing interests of the city will encourage the course.

6. That Americanization and Citizenship receive greater attention in the school program from the kindergarten grade through High School course.

CONCLUSION

In closing this report I wish again to make hearty acknowledgment of the unfailing courtesy, good will and assistance so generously extended to me during the past year by all with whom I have been associated.

Respectfully submitted,

DAVID B. LOCKE,
Superintendent of Schools.

Auditors' Report

To the Honorable City Council:

We have examined the books and accounts of the City Treasurer, City Clerk, Overseer of Poor, Superintendent of Schools, and Sinking Fund Commissioners, and find they have duly accounted for all moneys received by them and that they have proper vouchers for all moneys expended.

We find the records of disbursements as shown by the City Clerk and Superintendent of Schools agree with the entries on the City Treasurer's books.

We have checked the cash, and verified the notes, bonds, deposit books and securities in the hands of the City Treasurer and Sinking Fund Commissioners and found them to be in agreement with the books.

The various books and records in all departments were found in good order and vouchers for all disbursements were produced.

We believe the Sinking Fund Commissioners' report, which shows a list of securities in their hands at par value, should also show the market value of these securities at the time their report was made.

We highly commend the purchasing system of the City and advise that the work be extended still farther by the department of education. The Treasurer's books show a balance of $8,226.84 in uncollected taxes. It is our intention to take this matter up with your Honorable Board in a special report.

JAKE HEYMAN,
ROBERT D. SMITH,
W. T. SIMONDS,

Auditors of the City of Rutland.

Rutland, Vermont, January 29, 1921.
